GREAT AUDIENCE LISTENS TO HIM IN THE TABERNACLE.

SUGGESTIVE TALK DELIVERED

Text Taken from the Book of Proverbs Relative to Soft Words and Grievous Utterances.

Salt Lake City.—In the pulpit of the famous Mormon tabernacle in this city, where four years ago Theodore Roosevelt, then president, preached a Europe with her two children, Mauriei long sermon on right living and the duties of good citizenship, President Taft faced an audience which he said inspired him to try to follow in the footsteps of his predecessor and deliver a preachment.

Mr. Taft did preach a sermon-text and all. The immense audience in the flag-draped edifice, the splendid musical program of operatic and patriotic selections, the enthusiastic cheering as President Taft appeared and the quick response of the audience to points which he endeavored to impress upon his hearers, inspired him, the president declared, with higher thoughts of country and patriotism. The president's sermon was an appeal for amity between people, for attributing the best rather the worst motives to the action of others when possible to do so and not to harbor

"A soft answer turneth away wrath, but grievous words stir up anger," was the text Mr. Taft selected from the book of Proverbs. The sermon was a homely utterance, largely made up of a relation of stories to

From the tabernacle the president was driven to review about 20,000 school children. At one point along the line 1,000 or more children had been arranged in a living flag, red, white and blue caps and capes serving to outline the national emblem. Thence the president proceeded to the Young Men's Christian association, where he made a brief address to an audience composed entirely of Lastly, the president attended services especially arranged for him at the Unitarian church. After this unusually busy Sunday morning he left Salt Lake at noon for Ogden, where he enjoyed an eighteen-mile ride through Ogden canyon and made his park there.

In his address at Salt Lake he was introduced by Senator Smoot.

GOV. JOHNSON DEAD. dinnesota's Beloved Chief Executive Passes Away.

Rochester, Minn.-Governor John A Johnson, three times elected governor of Minnesota, a candidate for the democratic nomination for president of the United States in 1908, and looked spon by many throughout the country as the probable national standard bearer in 1912, died at St. Mary's hospital here at 3:25 o'clock Tuesday morning, following an operation the previous Wednesday. After battling against death for almost a week the governor's life had a peaceful ending. He had hovered between life and death for several days, and about an hour before dissolution came, recognizing that his end was near, took his wife's hand and weakly whispered to her, "Nora, I made a good fight, but I guess I've got to go." Then as the last gleam of inelligence began to flicker he pressed her hand gently to his cheek in a parting caress.

Governor Johnson had been operited on twice before, first for removal of an ulcer and afterwards for an abicess of the bowels. Both were acute, prolonged cases and he was in a serious condition each time. There had been obstruction of the bowels in each nstance and during the second operition the appendix was removed. After the second operation Governor Johnson enjoyed fairly good health, out later developed into serious at-

INDICTMENTS SECURED AGAINST MAYBRAY AND PALS.

GRAND JURY MAKES RETURNS

Maybray Had Victims in Eighteen States and Territories, Many of Them Very Prominent.

Council Bluffs, Ia .- James C. Maybray and eight four alleged associates were indicted by the United States grand jury for the southern district of lowa, charged with conspiring to defraud by illegal use of the United States mails. With the exception of Maybray and three or four others, none of those indicted are in custody and for that reason the names of the other defendants are not made public. It is stated, however, that the list includes many persons known in criminal annals in all parts of the country, and that nearly every name is followed by aliases. Each of these alleged confederates had a number, which is given as one of the aliases accredited to the defendant. Although specific amounts are not mentioned in the indictments, it is authoritatively stated that the amounts lost by the alleged victims of Maybray and others | The straw is cut into two-inch lengths named, will exceed half a million dol- by machinery, winnowed to obtain to $30,000, the latter sum having been | fine, dried and dipped into the mixture placed on a fake horse race, according of chlorate of potash, gum arabic, etc. to the evidence at hand, by a Missouri

The list of names of victims given try, and there is set forth in the cost. specific charges a number of letters of an incriminating character which gives a touch of sensationalism to the documents.

Victims in eighteen states, the territory of Alaska and the dominion of Canada, are named, indicating the wide range of territory over which Maybray and his associates are alleged to have plied their vocation. As a basis of operation they used, according to the indictment, the cities of Council Bluffs, Davenport and Burlington, Ia., St. Louis, Little Rock Seattle, Denver and New Orleans, to which places, it is alleged, victims were taken by the numerous "steers." In setting out the specific instances in which violation of the postal laws are changed, the indictment includes copies of many sensational letters alleged to have been exchanged between Maybray and his associate, which refer to alleged "deals," and name various sums of money as having changed hands as the result of the operations of those mentioned in the indictment.

One of these letters is dated from a New York hotel, and invites "Friend John," who it is alleged, is Maybray himself, to go to New York City, declaring. "I have a town across the river from New York in Jersey, a swell track and absolute protection. The sheriff and prosecutor and police they will be absolutely right."

Another letter cited is from Polk City, Ia., and signed F. R. Marts, enclosing $1,000, "to apply as forfeit money on our deal pending."
